

Proud to protect Britain's heating systems.

We at Sentinel are proud to offer our unrivalled multi metal heating system protection to the nation's installers. Sentinel X100 is proven to easily outperform our competitors in the protection of aluminium and is endorsed by leading heating equipment manufacturers. In fact, Sentinel products are recognised and trusted by heating engineers, installers and specifiers across Europe – but are all made right here in the UK. So if you want to fly the flag for protection and performance: take pride, choose Sentinel.
